

January 4, 2012

To whom it may concern:

There are few times in business where you really receive more than you expect. Our construction project that was managed by Dorgan and Zuck was one of these cases. This was a relatively large project for Nutrition, Inc. It was also several hundred miles away from our main office. Entering an unknown area and having no local knowledge of contractors, we were very careful in our selection. Dorgan and Zuck was a case of not taking the lowest bidder but a case of selecting the most professional and the best approach to our project. From the very first day to the last day the project was managed very efficiently. The subcontractors that were brought on site were all highly skilled and well educated in their craft. The onsite project manager, Keith Heist, was exceptional. He kept the project moving and hit every deadline. Construction projects are never fun, but it was a pleasure to work with Dorgan and Zuck and watch this project come together in a professional and attractive manor that was both on time and on budget. If you have any questions please feel free to call me at 1-800 442-2138, extension 831.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Patrick Davis". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal stroke at the end.

Patrick Davis, President
Commissary Division
Nutrition, Inc.